Fancy getting a taste of culture? There's all sorts going on at Alserkal Avenue in Al Quoz, so dig out your best paint-splashed dungarees and dive in.

Carbon 12 – The Gloomiest Sunset in the World

Love a good sunset? How about a gloomy one? Get down to Carbon 12 for a neo-expressionist trip along the blurred lines of fantasy and reality at Amir Khojaesteh's solo exhibition. The Gloomiest Sunset in the World is a satirical homage to classical portraiture by the Iranian artist, with peculiar works evoking an almost dream-like quality. The deceptive illusions and political messages evident in the body of work reveal a twisted sense of humour that will leave you captivated.

Free. Wed May 15-Sun Sep 1, daily 11.30am-7pm. Carbon 12, Alserkal Avenue (04 340 6016).
